The Event

Raising money and awareness to address the needs of Georgia's trauma system

■ The 411

The MidState Festival is a family-friendly celebration of music, makers, and community spirit that brings trauma education to the heart of Middle Georgia.

On Saturday, November 7, 2026, Southern Pines Regional Park's Ag & Expo Arena in Dublin will come alive with live local music, local artisans, food vendors, cook-off competitions, and interactive safety demonstrations — drawing families and community members from across Middle Georgia's 23 counties.

For sponsors, this is a chance to put your brand in front of a deeply engaged rural audience while aligning your name with a cause that saves lives. Every dollar invested goes directly toward educational and prevention opportunities for trauma professionals and residents in one of Georgia's most underserved regions — yours.

This isn't just a festival. It's a community.
And your name can be part of it.

Sponsorship Levels

Why Middle Georgia?

Rural Middle Georgia faces significant geographic challenges in accessing trauma care. Many communities in this region are miles from the nearest trauma center, and agricultural families face injury risks that require targeted education and resources.

Your sponsorship helps the Georgia Trauma Foundation close that gap—funding training and resources where it's needed most.
